Go Wild for Conservation Education

For nearly sixty years now, South Carolina Wildlife has been the go-to source for beautiful images of South Carolina's wildlife and wild places, fascinating natural history articles, educational features about our state's natural resources and tips and resources for adventurous trips and outdoor recreation.

You can help support the conservation education mission of the S.C. Department of Natural Resources by subscribing to SCW when renewing your state hunting and fishing privileges by mail using the convenient order form on page two of this flyer. Order before July 1 to be sure of receiving the annual July-August Special Sportsman's Calendar and Almanac issue.

Sincerely,

David Lucas, editor, South Carolina Wildlife

KNOW YOUR LIMITS

Freshwater Fishing Regulations Are Changing Effective July 1, 2012

Dear Angler

As an angler myself and the Chief of Freshwater Fisheries here in South Carolina, I am excited to announce that Governor Haley signed new freshwater fishing regulations into law on February 1, 2012. Going into effect July 1, 2012, the new regulations represent a major modernization of South Carolina's freshwater fishing laws and focus on changes to size and possession limits, definitions of water bodies and gear types and changes to allowable nongame devices by location. We here at the South Carolina Department of Natural Resources are confident these changes will clarify existing laws and promote healthy, sustainable fisheries for us all to enjoy. The staff here at the Department will continue to work to insure you have places to fish and fish to catch. Your challenge is to pick up a rod and step outdoors to collect treasures you will hold dear the rest of your life. Don't forget, the memories are always bigger than the fish.

Ross Self

Chief, Freshwater Fisheries
